Lt. Governor John Garamendi, NASA's Dr. Meyya Meyyappan, and STC Silicon Valley's D.J. Cline at the Silicon Valley Engineers Week Banquet

Photo by D.J. Cline .

At Thursday's Silicon Valley Engineers Week Banquet, an annual event of the Silicon Valley Engineering Council, Lt. Governor John Garamendi gave the keynote address on "Economic Renaissance Through Engineering". In this photo, he is joined by D.J. Cline (left), President of STC Silicon Valley, and Dr. Meyya Meyyappan (right), Chief Scientist for Exploration Technology Center for Nanotechnology, NASA Ames Research Center. Meyyappan was inducted into SVEC's Hall of Fame for his success in developing one of the world's largest research centers for nanotechnology and for his technical contributions to nanotechnology.